Multimodal RAG

MultiModal RAG is an advanced approach to information retrieval and generation that combines the strengths of multiple content types, primarily text and images. Unlike traditional RAG systems that focus solely on text, MultiModal RAG harnesses the power of both textual and visual information, providing a more comprehensive and context-rich foundation for generating responses.